World religions a voyage of discovery pdf free

This book covers a bunch of different religions in the world in an easy to understand and simplified way. Obviously doesn't include every single detail ever but it provides a solid basis for understanding the religions. I loved this book and it was well worth the read. Great for learning. Some of these other comments are just plain stupid and it's sad. Deserves a much better rating than these people are giving it. Five stars :) 1 Chapter 3: Hinduism World Religions: A Voyage of Discovery DOC ID #: TX003940 2 AUM AUM (or OM) is Hinduism's most sacred mantra. A is the first vowel of the Sanskrit language, and M is the final consonant. AUM thus symbolizes the totality of sound and thus all reality. © Melanie Vollmert / www.shutterstock.com 3 Shiva, God of Destruction Shiva is the god of destruction. Shiva forms a triad of important Hindu gods with Brahma, the creator, and Vishnu, the preserver. Most Hindus believe in the existence of many deities—traditionally, 330 million. © Smart-foto / www.shutterstock.com 4 Garuda The mythical bird Garuda is the half-vulture, half-man king of birds. Garuda is commonly portrayed as Vishnu's mount. Artistic images of Hindu deities are based on mythic stories. © Worldpics / www.shutterstock.com 5 Ganesha, the Elephant God Ganesha is the son of Shiva and his consort goddess Parvati. Ganesha is a god of wisdom and the remover of obstacles. Worship of Ganesha is popular among students and scholars. © awlebenham / www.shutterstock.com 6 Krishna and Radha Krishna is often pictured with his beloved gopi, or cowherd, Radha. Radha is the human soul, perfectly loving God, symbolized by Krishna. © devy / www.shutterstock.com 7 Sadhus, or Holy Men A sadhu is an ascetic, one who is devoted to spiritual pursuits. A sadhu is a sannyasin, the stage of life beyond the householder stage. Sadhus renounce material attachments and depend on others for food. © OlegD / www.shutterstock.com 8 Fire Puja Puja, a worship ritual, involves making offerings to a deity. Fire puja is one of the most common forms of Hindu ritual. The flames of the fire symbolize the entirety of the universe. Upon marrying, Hindus enter the householder stage of life and raise a family. © f9photos / www.shutterstock.com 10 Hindu Temple A temple is where a deity waits for its devotees. Decorations depict religious stories and scenes of everyday life. The inner sanctuary holds the principal image of the deity. © saiko3p / www.shutterstock.com 11 The Ganges "Mother Ganges" is considered to be holy. At Varanasi, India, Hindus take ritual baths in the morning. The Ganges is India's longest river. © Neale Cousland / www.shutterstock.com 12 Cow Veneration Throughout India, cows are free to wander streets, roads, and the countryside. The cow is a symbol of motherhood, not a deity. Veneration is a sign of respect for these creatures that benefit humankind. © JeremyRichards / www.shutterstock.com 13 Forehead Markings Hindus commonly mark their foreheads with meaningful symbols. The bindi ("drop") traditionally signified auspiciousness. Recently the bindi has become a fashion accessory. A red dot high on the forehead signifies that a woman is married. © szefer / www.shutterstock.com We've detected that JavaScript is disabled in this browser.
