Noah Please God9 These are the descendants of Noah. Noah was a righteous man, blamed in his generation. Noah was filled with violence. 12 And God saw that the earth was corrupt, because all flesh had corrupted its ways on the earth. 13 And God said to Noah, "I have determined to put an end to all flesh, for the earth is filled with violence to them; now I will destroy them with the earth. 14 "Make an ark of cypress wood; make rooms in the ark, and cover it inside and outside with the square. 15This is the manner of it: the length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, its breadth fifty cubits, and its height thirty cubits, and its height thirty cubits, and finish it a cubit above it; and set the door of the ark by its side; make it with lower, second, and third bridges. 17And I will bring a flood of waters on the earth, that I may destroy from under heaven all flesh, in which is the breath of life; and everything that is on the earth shall die.18But I will establish my covenant with you, your sons, your wives, and your sons, your wives, your birds after their kinds, and of the beasts after their kinds, of every creeping thing of the ground after its kind, two of every kind of food that is eaten, and keep it; and it shall serve as food for you and for them." 22 Noah did this; he did all that God had commanded him. The Great Flood? Then the LORD said to Noah, "Go into the ark, you and all your household, for I have seen that you alone are righteous before me in this generation. 2 Take with you seven pairs of birds of the air, male and female, to keep their kind alive on the face of all the earth. 4 "For seven days I will send rain on the earth for forty days and forty nights; and every living thing that I have made I will kill from the face of the earth. 7 And Noah and his sons and his wife and his sons' wives went into the ark to escape the waters of the flood. 80f clean animals, and of everything that creeps on the ground, 9two and two, male and female, went into the ark with Noah, as God had commanded Noah. 10 And after seven days the waters of the flood came upon the earth. 11 In the sixteenth century of Noah's life, in the second month, on the seventeenth day of the month, on the same day Noah and his sons, Shem, Ham, and Japheth, Noah's wife, and his sons' three wives, went into the ark, 14 they and all the domestic animals of every kind, and every bird of every kind, and every bird, every winged creature. 15Then two and two of all flesh, in which was the breath of life, went into the ark with Noah. 16 And they that went in, both male and female of all flesh, went in as God had commanded them; and the Lord shut him up. 17 And the flood continued forty days upon the earth; and the waters increased, and took up the ark, and were lifted up above the earth. 18And the waters were swollen and increased greatly on the earth; and the ark was floating on the face of the waters. 19 And the waters were so swollen on the earth that all the high mountains, and covered them in the depths of fifteen cubits. 21 And all flesh died that moved upon the earth, the birds, the domestic animals, the wild animals, every living creature that swarmed on the earth, and every human being; 22 all on dry ground, in whose nostrils the breath of life had died. 23 And he stretched out every living things, and fowls of the air; and they were Street from the earth. Only he was left, and those who were with him in the Ark. 24 and water waters on earth for one hundred and fifty days. 8But God remembered Noah, and all the animals of the house that were with him in the ark. And God caused the windows of the heavens were shut up, the rain from heaven was restrained, 3 and the waters receded from the earth. At the end of one hundred and fifty days the waters were abated. 4 And in the seventh month, on the seventh month, on the first day of the month, the tops of the mountains appeared. 6 At the end of forty days Noah opened the window of the ark which he had made 7 and sent out the raven, and went and fro until the waters were dried up from the earth. 8 Then he sent the dove to him to see if the waters were buried from the face of the ground. 9 But the dove found no place to put her foot, and brought it back to the ark, for the waters were still on the face of the whole earth. So he put his hand and took her and brought her into the ark with him. 10 He waited yet another seven days, and again he sent the dove out of the ark. 11 And the dove returned to him in the evening, and there was in her beak a freshly filled olive leaf; so Noah knew that the waters were subterranean from the earth. 12 Then he waited yet another seven days, and sent the dove, and did not return to him any more. 13 In the six hundred and first year, in the first month, on the first day of the month, the waters were dried up from the earth. Noah took off the covering of the ark, and looked, and saw the face of the ground dry. 14In the second month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, the earth was dry. 15 Then God said to Noah, 16 "Come out of the ark, you and your wife, and beasts, and every creeping thing that creeps on the earth, so that they may abound on the earth and be fruitful and multiply on the earth and be fruitful and multiply on the earth and every beast, every creeping thing, and every beast, eve and took of every clean animal and of every clean bird, and offered holes of fire on the altar. 21 And when the LORD spread the sweet odour, the LORD said in his heart, "I will never again destroy every living creature, as I have done 22 Until the earth endures, and the time of sowing and the harvest, and the cold and the heat, and the summer and the winter, and the arth. 2 The fear and dread of you shall rest on every beast of the earth, and on every fowl of the air, on everything that creeps on the ground, and on all the fish of the sea; into their hand shall they be delivered. 3Every living thing that moves will be food for you; and as I have given you green plants, I give you everything. 4 Only you shall not eat flesh with its life, that is, its blood. 5 "For your own lifeblood I will surely require a surrender; I will require it of every animal, and of human beings, each for the blood of a man, shall be shed the blood of the person, because in his image God made mankind. 7And you, be fruitful and multiply, abound in the earth and multiply in it." 8 Then God said to Noah and to his sons with him, 9 "As for me, I establish my covenant with you, the birds, the domestic animals, and every beast of the earth with you, as many as came out of the ark." 11 I establish my covenant with you, that no more shall all flesh be cut off by the waters of a flood, nor shall there be a flood to destroy the earth any more." 12And God said, This is the token of the covenant that I make between me and thee arth any more." 12And God said, This is the token of the covenant that I make between me and thee arth. 14 When I bring the clouds over the earth, and the rainbow is seen in the clouds, 15 I will remember my covenant which is between me and thee and every living creature of all flesh; and the waters shall never again become a flood to destroy all flesh. God and every living creature of all flesh on the earth." 17 God said to Noah, "This is the token of the covenant that I have established between me and all flesh that is on the earth." 18 The sons of Noah who came out of the ark were Shem, Ham, and Japheth. Ham was the father of Canaan. 19 These three were the sons of Noah; and by them the whole earth was populated. 20 Noah, a man of the soil, was the first to plant a vineyard. 21And he drank wine and was uncovered in his tent. 22 And Ham the father's nakedness, and put it on both shoulders, and went backward, and covered their father's nakedness; and their faces were turned away, and they saw not their father's nakedness. 24 When Noah awoke from his wine and knew what his younger son had done to him, 25 he said, "Canaan will be made; the lowest of slaves will be his brothers." 26 And he said, Blessed is the LORD my God.May Canaan be his slave. 27 God make room for Japheth, and let him dwell in the tents of Shem; and let Canaan be his servant." 28 After the flood Noah lived three hundred and fifty years; and he died. 10These are the generations of the sons of Noah, Shem, Ham, and Japheth; the children were born to them after the flood. 2 And the sons of Japheth: Gomer, and Madai, and Javan, and Tubal, and Meshech, and Tirash. 3And the sons of Japheth in their lands, and in their language, and in their families, and in their families, and in their nations. 6 The descendants of Raamah. The tower of babel11now all the earth had one language and the same words. 2 And as they migrated from the east, * they came upon a plain in the land of Shinar and settled there. 3 And they said one to another, "Let us make bricks and burn them thoroughly". And they had bricks for the stone and bitumen for the mortar. 4then they said, A A"Otherwise we will be scattered abroad on the face of all the earth". A A"5 The Lord came down to see the city and the tower, which the mortals had built. 6 And the Lord said, Behold, I am a people, and they have all one tongue; And this is only the beginning of what they will not understand the speech of the other "8so, the Lord scattered them abroad from there over thee over them abroad from there over them abroad from the speech of the other "8so, the Lord scattered them abroad from there over them abroad from the speech of the other them abroad from the speech of the face of all the earth, and they left building the city.
