You can avoid beading water altogether by coating the glass with an auto-glass treatment. 20 / 50The Family HandymanIt's easy to clean baked-on food and spills from your microwave Here's how: Partially fill a measuring or coffee cup with water and add a slice of lemon. In most cases, the mess will come right off. It's fast (about five minutes), you don't have to move heavy stuff, and you can clean work surfaces and shelves along with the floor. For sinks and tubs, first wet the surface with water. After a few hours, remove the lemon and wipe the faucet clean. 47 / 50Shutterstock / OsorioartistDoormats are your best friend when it comes to trapping dirt, so make sure you have two—one outside the house and one inside. You can't prevent clothes from shedding fibers, but you can make closets easier to keep clean and vastly cut down on dust. Although ripping out your wall-to-wall carpet may sound radical, it's the best thing you can do if you suffer from serious allergies. Isopropyl alcohol, sold as a disinfectant at drugstores, is a mild solvent. Spray extra vinegar over problem areas and let the spray soak in for about 15 minutes. Rinse the surface with plain water to completely remove the Super Iron Out. Know the dangerous side of some cleaning products before using them. Most home centers and discount stores carry countertop polish such as Countertop Magic or Hope's Counter Top Polish. Mineral spirits—sometimes labeled "paint thinner"—is a gentle solvent that dissolves years of grime and residue from cleaners or polishes without harming wood finishes. Follow the instructions on the package to apply the treatment to your shower door glass. Sweeping is more likely to stir up dust than to remove it. Maggie likes to add 10 or 15 drops of tea tree, lavender or lemon oil for a nice fragrance. And finally, vacuum the floor methodically so you cover every inch. Scrub tough spots with a soft-bristle brush. Choose units with True HEPA filters rather than ionic cleaners, which release ozone, a respiratory irritant. Add a plant to every room. First put away papers or anything else that you don't want blown away. Instead, consider getting freshener bags of activated charcoal, like these, and hide them in the corners of your furniture to help reduce odors. Just be sure to clean the mats regularly as dirty mats contribute to the mess. Keep your hardwood floors clean with these tips. Put on a pair of rubber gloves, spray the cabinets with an all-purpose cleaner containing orange oil, then wipe off the cleaner with the hot sponge. The longer you wait, the more stubborn the sap will become. You won't get rid of it by rubbing. And, start with a clean filter. Use vacuum attachments only on surfaces that are hard to dust with a cloth, such as rough surfaces and intricate woodwork, because the exhaust stream from a vacuum whips up a dust storm. Tried of trying to think up a way to clean a chandelier? Magic Eraser sponges are available at grocery stores, hardware stores and wherever cleaning supplies are sold. A dirty bag or filter reduces your vacuum's cleaning power. 27 / 50The Family HandymanSheet vinyl 'resilient' flooring is so easy to clean that it may never require anything beyond damp mopping with a cleaner intended for vinyl floors. 24 / 50Family HandymanClosets are dust reservoirs, full of tiny fibers from clothes, towels and bedding. 30 / 50The Family HandymanGrease and dirt build up on kitchen cabinets over time. The orange oil leaves a shiny coating. A soft-bristle upholstery brush works best for this type of vacuuming. Figure out what vacuum to use here. Go slowly. No more kiddy fingerprints on the fridge! 5 / 50Family HandymanThe space between your fridge and the floor is a magnet for pet hair, dust, food crumbs and other small trinkets. 17 / 50The Family HandymanWhen the beads of water left on your glass shower door dry out, they leave minerals behind that are at best unsightly, and at worst can be tough as nails to remove if you let them build up. You can buy Aquapel or find a local dealer online. The best idea is to buy machine-washable items and launder them twice a year (OK, at least once). Be careful not to use a product containing bleach—it'll set the stain. 29 / 50The Family HandymanThe thousands of microscopic fabric hooks on a microfiber cloth (available at discount stores) make it perfect to cut through the dried grout haze left after a tiling project. It's OK to make one quick pass over low-traffic areas, but make two slow passes over high-traffic areas. To clean your cabinets, heat a slightly damp sponge or cloth in the microwave for 20 to 30 seconds until it's hot. Save the rest in a gallon jug. Apply Super Iron Out to a damp sponge (wear rubber gloves and a mask—this stuff is powerful!). Unlike regular sponges, they wear out pretty fast, so stock up. But a wide-open floor adds only a few seconds to the vacuuming chore. 13 / 50The Family HandymanBlankets, pillows, slipcovers, drapes and other textiles not only trap household dust, but they create it as they shed and disintegrate. Start by cleaning any mold, mildew or streaks off the glass with a glass cleaner. Get it at a home center or paint store. Plus it will restore the shine to dull countertops. 4 / 50FAMILY HANDYMANIf you own stainless steel kitchen appliances, you may want to consider using car wax to clean them rather than a surface cleaner. Simply apply a light coat of car wax to the appliance, allow time to dry and buff clean to resist fingerprints and smudges. It's a huge source of fibers and absorbs dust like a giant sponge to cover the interior of your oven with the paste. After 10 minutes, open the door and wipe away the grime. Plus: Best Household Cleaning Supplies & Products 22 / 50The Family HandymanWhether it's built-up soap scum on the shower walls, ground-in dirt on the floor tile, or dried toothpaste on the vanity top, a Magic Eraser sponge will make short work of it. A humidifier (cleaned regularly) and leafy indoor plants will both increase humidity levels. Those coats you wear only in winter shed fibers year-round. You can also use lighter fluid or mineral spirits. All you have to do is spray it on and wipe it off every few weeks. 9 / 50The Family HandymanA Swiffer Sweeper floor mop is useful for more than just cleaning hard floors. Use it to dust interior walls and trim, too.! Attach a dry cloth to the rectangle end and press it along walls and trim. And if gone too long without cleaning task less difficult, use a hair trap cleaner (also called a drain cleaning zip tool), which sells at home improvement stores for under $5. While you're out, look for these other very useful household cleaning supplies. This is enough all-purpose cleaner to last for years! Use this mixture to clean tile, countertops and delay the heavy cost of replacement. Hang the cloth outdoors to dry before throwing it in the trash. Trace an opening on one end of a plastic storage container, then push a sharp razor knife into the plastic and cut out the opening. 18 / 50Family HandymanThe typical method is to tap the filter against the inside of a trash can until most of the dust falls off. This works for any wood or metal surface. 28 / 50The Family HandymanHere are four things you can do to cleanse the dusty air in your home: Place air purifiers in your most-used rooms to help suck up dust before it settles. Rinse and reheat the sponge as it becomes saturated. If the floor is cluttered, chances are you'll just bypass it while vacuuming. 46 / 50The Family HandymanIn most homes, carpet is by far the biggest dust reservoir. For stubborn spots, let the cleaner sit for five minutes first. Wipe the stain with the sponge until it's gone. Slip garment bags or large garbage bags over them. Leslie Reichert, founder of The Green Cleaning, has a bucket-less mopping technique that works wonders: a spray bottle filled with diluted cleaning solution and a microfiber mop. Or get rid of the whole kit and caboodle for a steam mop. You don't want to leave any stray hair or dust bunnies to muck up your cleaning water. You can also use a biodegradable product such as Simple Green. 23 / 50The Family HandymanFeather dusters and dry rags pick up some of the dust they disturb, but most of it just settles elsewhere. Raise it to its highest setting, turn it on and lower it until you can feel the vacuum trying to tug itself forward. 6 / 50showcake/ShutterstockActivated charcoal is an even better adsorbent and odor-killer than baking soda, and can deal with a wider variety of particles. For a really thorough cleaning, start at the top, vacuuming the dust from light fixtures and to lets, even with a lot of elbow grease. 10 / 50The Family HandymanAll-purpose cleaners won't remove rust stains from sinks, tubs and toilets, even with a lot of elbow grease. 10 / 50The Family HandymanAll-purpose cleaners won't remove rust stains from sinks, tubs and toilets, even with a lot of elbow grease. 10 / 50The Family HandymanAll-purpose cleaners won't remove rust stains from sinks, tubs and toilets, even with a lot of elbow grease. 10 / 50The Family HandymanAll-purpose cleaners won't remove rust stains from sinks, tubs and toilets, even with a lot of elbow grease. 10 / 50The Family HandymanAll-purpose cleaners won't remove rust stains from sinks, tubs and toilets, even with a lot of elbow grease. 10 / 50The Family HandymanAll-purpose cleaners won't remove rust stains from sinks, tubs and toilets, even with a lot of elbow grease. 10 / 50The Family HandymanAll-purpose cleaners won't remove rust stains from sinks, tubs and toilets, even with a lot of elbow grease. 10 / 50The Family HandymanAll-purpose cleaners won't remove rust stains from sinks, tubs and toilets, even with a lot of elbow grease. 10 / 50The Family HandymanAll-purpose cleaners won't remove rust stains from sinks, tubs and toilets are stained by the stain of th lock fibers in and dust out, while letting you see what's inside. (Here's a tip for washing windows.) These abrasives usually won't scratch glass, but test a small area first just to make sure. That's why pros love stain pens, like Tide To Go and the Clorox Bleach Pen Gel, which are designed to remove small stains from upholstery, grout, caulk, porcelain and clothing (avoid the bleach pens for colored fabric). It's a good all-purpose cleaner, but it's not the best for cleaning glass. Plants naturally absorb common indoor pollutants like benzene and formaldehyde. Cloths that attract dust with oils or waxes also work well but can leave residue on furniture. For non-machine-washable textiles, throw them in the dryer on the air-fluff setting (no heat) for 20 minutes with a damp towel. 41 / 50The Family HandymanNow that discount and dollar stores carry cheap electric toothbrushes, you can add a modern twist to routine cleaning. 37 / 50The Family HandymanNow that discount and dollar stores carry cheap electric toothbrushes, you can add a modern twist to routine cleaning. 37 / 50The Family HandymanNow that discount and dollar stores carry cheap electric toothbrushes, you can add a modern twist to routine cleaning. Scrub, Bar Keepers Friend or Bon Ami and scrub with a soft cloth. Wipe in the direction of the wood grain. Damp rags or disposable cloths that attract and hold dust with an electrostatic charge (like Swiffer or Grab-it) work much better. Use a Mr. Clean Magic Eraser to get into the cracks in textured glass. No leaf blower? Our buyer's guide can help you decide which one is best for you. 15 / 50The Family HandymanProfessional housecleaner Maggie Orth likes to make her own cleaning products. Rapid vibration will quickly scrub out stubborn dirt, while the long handle can get to hard-to-reach places without all the elbow grease. Plus: How to Clean a Bathroom Faster and Better 45 / 50The Family HandymanIt's not fancy, but it's a cheap way to keep litter in the litter box where it belongs. You can monitor humidity levels with a cheap hydrometer from a gardening store. Keep your windows closed on windy days. 25 / 50The Family HandymanIf drippy trees or deck lumber deposit sap on your vinyl siding, don't delay cleanup. You can pick up dust, cobwebs and dirt safely, without having to step on a ladder. Apply the cleaner with a rag or sponge. Then I apply an automotive car wax like Turtle Wax and buff after the wax hazes. 49 / 50Vladimir Miloserdov/ShutterstockSometimes moving around the mop bucket only makes more of a mess thanks to the dirty water splashing around. If you attack the fresh sap within a week or so, a common kitchen cleaner such as Formula 409 or Fantastik will likely remove the goo. However, this highly purified charcoal dust isn't the best thing to put on your furniture, where it can stain. This hair trap won't leave scratches on the floor and can reach further than a vacuum cleaner attachment. This tool will also help you when your bathroom sinks inevitably clog with hair. Here's a faster, neater, more thorough approach: Take the vacuum out to the garage and clean the pleated filter with a shop vacuum. This should freshen up most fabrics. Note: Baking soda may have varying effects based on what is causing the odor or general "staleness" of your furniture. Use the leaf blower to get under workbenches and to clean off the benches themselves. If standard cleaners won't dissolve the sap, use a citrus cleaner such as Goo Gone ($5 at home centers). Two brands are Aquapel and Rain-X. Keeping it? Here are some carpet cleaning tips for long-lasting carpet. Replace carpeting with hard flooring like laminate, wood or tile, and wet mop it regularly (with a microfiber cloth) instead of sweeping. Just don't increase the level to more than 50 percent. 7 / 50EKramar/ShutterstockBaking soda is a natural adsorbent, which means it has the ability to absorb odors when used correctly. Then work your way down. Then wipe the cabinets with a cool, damp cloth. The trick is to use a stain remover like Super Iron Out. 16 / 50The Family HandymanDo you ever find yourself chasing strands of wet hair or running into dust balls in the corners with your sponge or cleaning rag? Here are some tips:Clear plastic containers are best. Open the overhead door. But before you take on that project, take a tip from furniture restorers and clean it with mineral spirits. Chemically speaking, any soap in a liquid or gel form, and some bar soaps (Zest and Ivory), are actually synthetic soaps and much less likely to leave a tough film in your sink, shower or tub. See why keeping all the cleaning supplies in one bucket will transform cleaning. Boil the water for a minute, and then leave the door closed and let the steam loosen the mess. Just dampen it and rub it on the offending mess. Check out one easy solution. These sponges are especially useful for removing ground-in dirt from porous floor tile and getting those pesky nonslip strips in the bottom of your tub clean. That's because years of wear have left the surface lightly scratched and porous. Every time you open the door, you whip up an invisible dust storm. This cleaning method works great for screen porches, too. When the time has elapsed, get out the vacuum up all the baking soda. 11 / 50The Family HandymanRemove hard-water buildup on your faucet with this simple, natural solution: place half of a fresh lemon on the end of the faucet, wrap a small plastic bag around the lemon and secure it to the faucet with a rubber band. You can eliminate this nuisance by vacuuming the bathroom before you get out your cleaning solutions. They help to contain fibers and keep the clothes themselves from becoming coated with dust. Keep closet floors clear. But if your floor has marks or stains that still won't come off, you can use stronger stuff. Scrape off tough buildup with a razor blade. This cleaning hack is especially helpful in the winter when you have salty and snowy boots going in and out of the house. Vacuum entrance areas and high-traffic areas twice a week and the rest of the carpeting at least weekly. For the best results, set the height right. You'll find Rain-X at any auto parts store. Let a showerhead amaze you with the comfort it can provide and check out these shower heads for a better shower experience. Dust enters through doors and windows in the form of pollen, mold spores and airborne pollutants. Keep the air pure and keep out allergens as well. You'll still have to rinse and repeat, but the haze will clean up faster than it would with an ordinary rag. Pour in the litter and your cat will figure out the rest. Plus: How to Clean a Bathroom Faster and Better. If elbow grease alone won't do the job or if you have large areas to cover, use a drill and a small buffing wheel (find one at home centers). This will promote the growth of mold, a far more dangerous condition than dust.
