WolfSpyryt Terry A Zahn 5.0 out of 5 stars After weeks of researching per my budget, I discovered this machine. After receiving this machine, I immediately noticed several things that were different from all my past machines. 1. This machine is extremely simple to operate if the owners manual is actually read. 2. This machine is much quieter than any machine Ive owned. 3. The time from turning the machine on to ready is truly 40 seconds. 4. This machine has several valuable settings and features available. Temperature has 3 settings. Shot volumes can be easily changed to accommodate user preferences. 5. Removing the chrome cover from the steaming wand, allows better frothing. 6. The resulting espresso and steamed milk produced is excellent. This is an excellent machine out of the box. Well see as time and usage goes on. So far I am satisfied with my decision to purchase. This is actually my fourth Dedicaby deLonghi. Issues, i have three major ones 1. Do not put the ground holder in your dishwasher, I have a Bosch and after first wash the chrome came right off the holder plus I had to scrub the black sooty residue left by the dishwasher detergent most likely cause of the problem 2. I tried to use the descaler provided and followed the directions provided explicitly, unfortunately, the steam light which indicates the need for descaling did not go off, and that happened to two of my machines.

3. <http://www.dzwigipoznan.pl/userfiles/3ware-7506-8-manual.xml>

the reason I got so many machines besides having two separate residences, is that I used the plug provided to tamp down the espresso grounds into the holder. Big mistake, the pump labored and very little espresso came out and the machine was working for quite a while. Eventually one of the machines essentially died on me, it just did not seem to have any power. One day I was too busy to tamp down the grounds, and the machine worked perfectly and fast, that's when I realized that tamping down the grounds should be a NO NO. Unfortunately deLonghi does not say anything, then why provide a tampon to tamp down the grounds Anyhoo, the last machine works perfectly and I stopped using the tampon to tamp the grounds into the holder, when time comes to descale, I'll just pop some vinegar into the tank and run it through its paces, rinse well and live with the idiotic flashing steam indicator. Now I can make my 3 shots in less than 5 minutes, and I'm spending 80% less by buying the sugar free vanilla syrup from Starbucks and nabbing some bags of caramel drizzle sauce off eBay. I can now enjoy 3 caramel macchiatos per day, and this machine has absolutely handled my constant use like a champ. You won't be disappointed. Had it been solely my choice, I would have chosen a superautomatic machine, but my husband wanted more control. This is a nice compromise. It's easy to use once you learn how, and you can make choices about the amount of pressure when tamping the coffee grounds. Because you need to dump out the used grounds, it is a little messier than a superautomatic. But we were used to that with our decades old Krupps which continues to work very well and makes delicious espresso. We also loved that we could get it in red to match our other kitchen accessories. I love my Dedicca! I love that the brewing temperature and shot sizes are adjustable. I love the quality of the shot. So far, so good. One thing I do not love is the small filter baskets.

Even the double shot basket holds barely enough coffee for a full 2 oz rich espresso. I ended up purchasing a second portafilter to modify. Turns out my old ECM unpressurized filter baskets fit this porta when the plastic insert is removed. Pero despues de un tiempo me acostumbre a obtener solo single shots en lugar de dobles, aun usando el filtro doble. La maquina empezo a filtrar el agua despues de 4 meses de uso, 4 o 5 shots a la semana, primero por el portafiltros al momento de extraer el cafe y despues por todos lados incluso al usar el espumador de leche. Ingrese la maquina a servicio y he esperado pacientemente por casi 3 meses sin que hasta la fecha se haya solucionado la fuga. La respuesta que me dan via telefonica es que no han recibido un conector creo, defectuoso. Deplorable! Quality product. You can't go wrong buying this one. I have used the DeLonghi EC680 Dedicca for almost a month and I am really pleased with it. It is easy to program and customize. It makes great espresso with a nice crema. It foams milk really well creating a thick foam and makes a great cappuccino. It looks elegant on the counter. The unit is long and slim and takes up very little counter space. When I read the reviews they said that the power button sometimes fails. I have only used the power button once to turn on the machine as it turns off automatically and you can set the time to turn off, which is really great. I have only one complaint and that is the water tank is seated tightly and there is no handle to remove it, just a small space to put two fingers. This has resulted in me dropping it as I attempted to disengage it to refill it. Finally it has removable filters for cleaning no more clogging! The unit has been very glitchy and we've had to reset it several times now. It's working well now after being run a few times. Cheaper than buying in store but maybe don't order it in the winter.

I also always appreciated the fact that if you want to use the pods it is also an option and more like tea bags therefor compostable was more environmentally friendlier than other brand. Deluxe vs Super One of the best things about coffee is the fact that it can be made in many ways, so no matter the strength, flavor or coffee type you want, it only takes a few minutes to prepare it using the latest espresso machines for home use. Many manufacturers now have espresso machines designed for home use which are attractively priced, compact, and fully automatic in producing many popular and delicious! beverages at the touch of a button. They include Automatic home espresso machines mean you can have your espresso drink anytime and anyplace you desire! In fact, the difference between the 2 is very simple. For instance, if you want to be a bit more particular when preparing your coffee, then you should certainly get a semi automatic espresso machine. On the other hand, the super automatic type is for those who don't have the patience to do anything but press or touch a single button and then wait for a bit while their coffee is prepared for them. Still, you won't need to worry about doing manual steps that are required when, for instance, you want to use the stove top to make an espresso shot.

In the list below, we're going to show you a few features that make purchasing a semiautomatic coffee maker a great choice. On the other hand, if you want to make coffee with the push of a button and nothing more, then get a super automatic espresso maker. First of all, this espresso machine has received a lot of praise not only for the fact that it can prepare some really amazing espresso shots, but also because it has a very impressive design. Check out our full review of Jura Impress C60. All you have to do is turn the rotary dial until you see your desired drink on the machine's display and then press it in order to have the machine prepare it for you. You'll actually have a blast preparing lattes and cappuccinos that taste simply amazing thanks to this function. Given the fact that the spout can be adjusted, it can easily accommodate both larger and smaller cups. The unit is manufactured and also designed in France where it's heavily tested in order to ensure that it provides excellent performance for the most demanding coffee lovers out there. With a metallic burr grinder, a hydraulic automated tamping system and 15 bar pump, the EA82 from Krups allows you to brew your favorite espresso shots quickly, but also prepare a wide range of recipes thanks to its sharp LCD screen that's going to guide you every step of the way. Check out our full review of KRUPS EA8250 Espresseria Fully Automatic Espresso Machine. You also get a 60 oz or one point eight liter removable water tank and a large bean hopper, allowing you to prepare multiple drinks for your friends and family. From now on, preparing delicious coffee is never going to be an issue thanks to the excellent functionality and features of the Krups EA8250. The BES980XL features automatic milk texturing, tamping, dosing, but also grinding given the fact that it automates 2 of the most difficult parts of the espresso making process, it's clear what the company is going for utter customer satisfaction.

Thanks to this setting, you can finally enjoy coffee shop quality espresso drinks in just a few minutes. For instance, the shot temperature can be programmed from 190F degrees to 205F degrees and you can select the temperature to be displayed in both Degree C or Degree F. On the inside, you get dual boilers made of stainless steel, but also dual Italian pumps with PID. What's great about the boilers is that they're user descalable. With such amazing features, it's no doubt that the BES980XL will be considered the best by a lot of coffee lovers. Its streamlined design provides excellent functionality with a very small footprint which is going to be appreciated by those who have a small countertop. If you look at the main panel, you'll notice there are six tactile beverage buttons that you can choose from, including latte macchiato, cappuccino, hot milk, long, but also espresso and ristretto. Speaking of which, the heating up time has been reduced to just twenty five seconds, meaning you can have a cappuccino or cup of your favorite coffee ready in less than a minute. After use, you can just place the milk carafe in the fridge. With this compact design, high quality construction, and ability to provide great tasting espresso, the Cafe Roma is a big step up from normal coffee makers or Nespresso machines with very little added cost. Its compact size and quality construction, combined with bigtime features such as Thermoblock heating and 15 bar pressure during extraction give you great control over the espresso making process. This same ease of use extends to other features such as the viewing window to readily see the water level in the removable water reservoir. The Cafe Roma includes three Stainless Steel filters allowing you to produce single shot, double shot, or to utilize convenient pods. Breville's unique dual wall crema technology ensures a rich, smooth flavor no matter which filter you choose.

This attractive stainless steel machine also includes a 6 cup warmer to ensure that you are always ready to make a great cup of espresso and a variety of accessories—including a frothing jug, tamping tool, measuring spoon and cleaning tool. Breville has been a trusted brand for almost 90 years. Thanks to the patented dual filter holder, you can easily choose to brew ESE pods or ground espresso. Used with 2 measures of ground coffee, the Sempre Crema Filter greatly improves the brewing process in order to produce that perfect crema we all want to see in our coffee drinks. Also, when used with a single measure of ground coffee or pods, the Easy Serving Espresso Filter is going to make preparing espresso very convenient and simple. Regardless of how you choose to make it, you can have the peace of mind your espresso is going to be made to order. Other features you'll love about the EC702 include the high quality stainless steel boiler, a unique nodrip design, and self priming preparation which abolishes pesky startup preparation, a 44 oz removable water tank and a 15bar pump. What you'll love about the Citiz C111 is the fact that it allows you to prepare delicious coffee drinks with the touch of a button and unlike other similar models, it can also prepare both cold and hot milk froth. Because of that, enjoying Macchiatos, lattes and cappuccinos is going to be a completely new experience. While not as large as the ones found in other models, the 34 oz water tank is enough if you just want to prepare coffee for several people. Just keep in mind that you can only use it with Nespresso coffee capsules. Preheating time is just 25 seconds, which means that you can prepare an espresso shot in under a minute. The Citiz C111 set includes the espresso machine itself and the Aeroccino Plus milk frother. This EC680 incorporates the thermoblock technology, it can heat up in as little as thirty five seconds.

You also get buttons for automatic flow stop and a sturdy stainless steel construction. If you want, then you can also set it so that it pours hot water for brewing tea or Americanos. This model comes with a builtin steam regulator, it's perfect for keeping temperature at a safe level. To ensure that all of your drinks will taste equally delicious, the Dedica alerts you when you have to descale it. All in all, the reviews online rave about this model, it's clear that it's one of the best you can get to prepare delicious coffee drinks. From now on, you can create barista quality drinks with a single push of a button and without ever leaving your home. The machine already comes preprogrammed with 6 different drinks, including hot milk, latte, cappuccino, lungo, espresso and ristretto. You can also customize the 6 volume settings by navigating the touchscreen menu, allowing you to prepare larger lattes or stronger espressos. On top of that, thanks to the hot water option, it's going to be very simple to make hot chocolate or tea. To clean it, you just have to turn the milk regulator knob to "clean" and that's about it. Thanks to the pivoting cup support, you can now prepare ristrettos and espressos, but also larger beverages. In total, the EN750MB is able to hold up to sixteen coffee capsules and given the fact that it features a removable point five liter milk container, any unused milk can be stored for later use in the fridge. Also, in order to add a touch of milk forth pleasure to all your coffee drinks, the company has fitted this model with a steam pipe. As a result, each cup of coffee you prepare with it is going to taste simply amazing. Also, no longer will you need to worry about coffee with burnt taste thanks to the one hundred percent ceramic grinders. What makes these special is the fact that they don't heat up when grinding the coffee, meaning your espresso shots are going to taste amazing.

Thanks to its advanced cappuccino system that features a cappuccino and milk selector, you can easily steam milk in order to prepare a creamy and rich froth for very delicious and evenly textured coffee drinks. If you want to fit taller cups, then you'll be happy to know what the bottom tray can be easily removed to accommodate them. In terms of cleanup, the removable drip tray and water tank make this process very simple and the good news is that the parts are also dishwasher safe. From the very first time you use it, you're going to be very impressed with how easy it us to operate, but also how delicious the various coffee drinks it can prepare are. Its streamlined design provides excellent functionality with a very small footprint which is going to be appreciated by those who have a small countertop. Given the fact that this model offers a hating up time of just 25 seconds, you can have a cappuccino or cup of your favorite coffee ready in less than a minute. Because of these amazing features and more, the DeLonghi EN550S is by far the best espresso machine for home use you can currently get and we highly recommend it for both novice and advanced users. One of the many features you'll love about it is the advanced cappuccino system that features a cappuccino and milk selector, meaning you can steam milk in seconds in order to prepare a creamy and rich froth for very delicious and evenly textured coffee drinks. Given the fact that the build quality is great, the pro of being able to fit taller cups and the great price, it's easy to see why so many coffee lovers are absolutely crazy about this model.
